

Cosmocracy Inc. - A Ride Across Your Mind (2019)

Complete lyrics

01 - A Ride Across Your Mind

---

(Instrumental)

02 - Reptile

---

In our long days of exile
in the corridors of a place
no one can see, yeah
we've been crawling as the reptile,
roaming out to the grace
the Sun may be, yeah.

He's chased by the hunters who want his skin
as we are drowned in the poison on our screens.

The invaders of our minds lie repeatedly
and shorten our sleep, yeah.
By now the fool leads out the blind
deceiving him constantly
in a golden trip, yeah.

Pixels enlighten the dead black grave
as shadows cast on the walls of the cave.

We gotta expel the merchants from our temple!
We gotta smash it once and for all!
C'mon!

The flux of words and pictures
is boiling out our brains
and crush our spirits, right.
In growing us shallow desires and stick us to our chains
there's no limit.

See behind the scenes the real show!
Dash through the smokescreen and learn what we ought to know!

03 - Echoes In My Head

---

An incessant racket
invades my mind,
these sounds warn us
of an imminent danger.

Such an abomination, that nobody can name;
I am only the messenger, to announce the coming storm.

Echoes in my head
shout the terror within me,
the lurking fear
is gonna take my eyes away.
Some call me a fool, but I am telling you,
we will all slither in a meander of consequences.

The inevitable has to come in the end.

Nothing can be done
to avoid the blaze,
all you can do is find
a way out of this realm.
I invite you, my people,
to come with me.
When the evidence will have reached you,
you may surpass your self!

04 - I Can Feel It Dying

---

What keeps me standing up is knowing,
no more the fear of falling down.
But will my brain ever be forgiving?
Cause wordy delusions took my mind
far from the ground.
Yeah, come on!

Slowly strolling along the pain,
I engineer myself out of the chain
of self-made men,
all lured by gain,
while I step out
of the mass hallucinations
from the past
that build the nations,
made them last,
now are disappearing fast.
Cause ain't no one to compete against,
but shortcomings of our own.

I can feel it dying!
I said
I can feel it dying!
How silly was I?

05 - Nightbird

---

Now the reddening Sun falls below the ocean
and pulls the curtains of the day.
From its last rays remains a vanishing reflection
that gives me the feeling to stay.
Now the brilliant heat retires as ebb tide waves
that Charon rides, carrying crimson haze.

The sky, fleetingly opalescent.
Souls appealed to ascend.

Now slowly floating on the deep blue night,
I can barely see a billion lights.
And all my trouble seem so far away,
silence dies as you appear on my way.
Your singing softly brings me rest;
but will you ever lead me to your nest?

Time suspended in a moon beam;
eyes suddenly started to gleam.

Nightbird, I'll miss you all my life.

Seeking a quiet stage, we met among the trees
where the plains bind the mountains to the seas.

And we were operating by sunclipse,
proceeding by the fire, oh
we were bold and aimless.

In the red glow and bitter vapours,
we were flying alone.

"Follow me, follow me I'll show you things you cannot see."
I'm hearing your breath from a certain distance.
"I will blow you to my lands!"
Will you only save me from the turmoil of your streams?
"Well, everything has already been sealed.
Now, close your eyes and tame your hind brain
with silence and discipline,
for once, shall you try."

"Face your fears and find balance in yourself.
Now, let it slowly drive your ego away.
And shall you calmly explore disarray.
Soon, shall you realize all intertwined
as slowly thaw the meanings from your mind."

We lied beyond the edge in which our thoughts are hold,
borne by the seeds from which our minds have grown.
Left with no words
to face silent tapestries.
Colours long forgotten
far beneath the constructs of our own.

Humbled and soothed,
laughing at certitudes.

When exaltation dimmed
we drifted to a state of peace.
And when the light gently reveals the next day,
we'll talk about our prospects of a new way.